Scope and Contents

The John Lehmann Collection documents the personal and professional life of the English author, editor, poet and publisher through business records, clippings, correspondence, financial records, manuscripts, notebooks, photographs, reports, and scrapbooks. He was partner and general manager of The Hogarth Press (1938 to 1946); director of the publishing firm John Lehmann, Ltd. (1945-1952); and editor of the publications New Writing (1936-1939), Penguin New Writing (1940-1950), New Writing and Daylight (1942-1946), New Soundings (1952-1953), and The London Magazine (1954-1961).

The bulk of the collection reflects his professional life, but the most recent additions include some material of a more personal nature, such as domestic records and personal correspondence. Lehmann's manuscript for In The Purely Pagan Sense (1976) is also personal, an autobiographical record of his homosexual life in England and pre-war Germany written in the form of a novel.

The collection was originally described in a card catalog and arranged into four series: I. Works (21 boxes); II. Letters (Outgoing Correspondence, 21 boxes); III. Recipient (Incoming Correspondence, 47 boxes); and IV. Miscellaneous (17 boxes). Descriptions in the following Container List were derived from the card catalog; titles of Lehmann works and names of his correspondents are listed in the following Index of Works, Index of Letters, and Index of Recipients. The Index of Miscellaneous chiefly lists third-party letters and works by others.

Subsequent acquisitions are itemized at the end of the Container List under the heading "Additional Acquisitions; Not Described in Card Catalog" (12 document boxes, 3 pamphlet boxes, and 2 oversize boxes). This material has not been fully cataloged and is not indexed. Folder titles in single quotation marks (e.g., 'Letters – papers – pamphlets, Autumn 1933–Winter 1934, Vienna, Austria') are taken verbatim from Lehmann's own folder descriptions.

The Works series contains manuscripts for most of Lehmann's writings, both published and unpublished, including autobiographies, biographies, essays, novels, poetry, radio scripts, reminiscences, reviews, stories, and talks. Later acquisitions of Lehmann's writings are arranged as they arrived, in four groups labeled Works 1 through Works 4; titles of individual works are listed in these sections of the Container List and in the Index of Works.

The Letters series contains copies of Lehmann's outgoing correspondence, mostly responses to submissions for publication by the various presses and journals he worked for. Also included are somewhat more personal letters to family and to literary friends (usually involving matters regarding publication as well) such as Christopher Isherwood; Allen Lane; his mother, Alice Lehmann; his sister, the novelist Rosamond Lehmann; Louis MacNeice; Norman Nicholson; Stephen Spender; Leonard Woolf; and Virginia Woolf.

The largest series is Recipient (incoming correspondence). It consists primarily of letters inquiring about or enclosing submissions for publication to the various journals and publishing houses that Lehmann worked for. All letters are filed in one alphabetical series by the name of the letter's author; letters are not sorted by the name of Lehmann's publishing entities—that information must be deduced from the address to which the letter was sent or by other internal evidence. Significant amounts of correspondence in this series come from well-known authors such as Jocelyn Brooke, E. M. Forster, Henry Green, Graham Greene, Christopher Isherwood, Julian Maclaren-Ross, Louis MacNeice, Norman Nicholson, William Plomer, V. S. Pritchett, John Rodker, Dame Edith Sitwell, Sir Osbert Sitwell, Stephen Spender, Dylan Thomas, and Rex Warner.

Frequently a copy of Lehmann's reply is filed with incoming correspondence in the Recipient series; these replies are not indexed.

Included in the correspondence from Henry Green are letters to Green from writers who were invited to a testimonial lunch that Green organized in honor of Lehmann. After the lunch Green sent the letters to Lehmann. They can be found in box 59 folder 5 and are included in the Recipient index.

Another file in the Recipient series documents Lehmann's attempts on behalf of John Lehmann Ltd. to find paper in 1946-1947, when wartime shortages were still a major problem for publishers. It can be found in box 74 folder 5 under Purnell & Sons Limited, but it also contains correspondence with other papermakers and publishers about the issue.

All items in the preceding Works, Letters, and Recipients series were either created by or received by John Lehmann. The Miscellaneous series contains works created by others and letters written by or received by others. There is, however a segment of Lehmann materials containing business and other correspondence filed by subject, student notebooks, publishing records, and some financial information (boxes 95 through 99). Because of the variety of creators and types of materials present in this series, the Index of Miscellaneous contains much more detailed information than the other indexes

Correspondence addressed to assistants who worked under Lehmann's direction at various enterprises is filed in the Miscellaneous series. Those assistants include John Bissett (New Writing), Elizabeth Bone (New Writing), Barbara Cooper (John Lehmann Ltd., London Magazine, New Writing, New Writing and Daylight, Penguin New Writing), Maurice Cranston (London Magazine), J. C. Hall (Penguin New Writing), Barbara Hepworth (Hogarth Press, John Lehmann, Ltd.), David Hughes (London Magazine), James Michie (London Magazine), Mrs. Nicholls (Hogarth Press), Charles Osborne (London Magazine), Alan Ross (London Magazine), and James Wright (London Magazine).

More recently acquired material (between 1990 and 2018) that was not cataloged in the card catalog is listed at the end of the Container List under the heading, "Additional Acquisitions; Not Described in Card Catalog." It is roughly organized into four groups: Personal and Career-Related, Correspondence, Works, and Works by Others. Prominent among the Personal and Career-Related material are records of the Royal Literary Fund for 1959-1976, during which period Lehmann served as the organization's president.

Note: Due to a filing error, not all catalog records were previously available to users of the John Lehmann Collection. This error has been corrected in the present finding aid. Researchers who have used the collection in the past are advised to search this finding aid for material that might not have appeared in the card catalog.

Explanatory Note Concerning Manuscript Collections Cataloged in the Card Catalog

Prior to 1990 when archival cataloging procedures were adopted at the Ransom Center, all manuscript collections were described in a card catalog.

Organization of Collections:

- Manuscripts for each author collection were organized into four categories:
- Works: manuscripts by the author, arranged alphabetically by title;
- Letters: the author's outgoing correspondence, arranged alphabetically by recipient name;
- Recipient: the author's incoming correspondence, arranged alphabetically by the author of the letter; and
- Miscellaneous: all other manuscripts and correspondence, arranged alphabetically by creator.

Materials that did not fit into these categories, such as art, photographs, books, and near-print materials such as newspaper clippings, were dispersed to other Ransom Center collections for cataloging and storage.
